MILLARD DEE GRUBBS BOMBING MATTERS

EN-30L

On February 12, 1959, Millard Dee Grubbs telephonically contacted our Louisville Office to render a "formal complaint" concerning the Bureau's participation in bombing and integration matters.

Grubbs alleged that he has received telephone calls and letters from all over the United States asking him to determine the Bureau's jurisdiction in these matters. He added that he was writing an article questioning the FBI's jurisdiction and that he was seriously considering seeking injunctive remedies in Federal court.

He also stated that he would correspond with the Attorney General; however, he pointed out that he had no respect for Department of Justice officials and during the course of the conversation Grubbs accused the Attorney General of using the FBI for personal gain and glory.

Grubbs, who is reported to be a disbarred attorney, is President of the Citizens Council of Kentucky, Incorporated, which is opposed to integration. Grubbs has stated that he abhors violence and seeks his objectives by legal means such as court action and the dissemination of information.

telephonically contacted the Louisville Office to render a "formal complaint" concerning the investigative

Attorney General's Office, is completely unimpressed with Attorney General ROGERS and feels that ROGERS is authorizing investigations by the FBI at the slightest provocation.
GRUBBS said he has the highest regard for the FBI and the greatest admiration for Director HOOVER, but believes that Attorney General ROGERS is using the FBI for personal gain and glory.

jurisdiction of the FBI in the above mentioned matters. He said he was in the process of writing an article questioning the FBI's jurisdiction and that he was seriously considering injunctive remedies in Federal Court. He explained his most recent calls came from [redacted] who had solicited GRUBBS's assistance in determining the investigative jurisdiction question.

GRUBBS then proceeded in a lengthy tirade to explain why he was not a part of [redacted] group and was not associated in any manner with the organizations [redacted] represented. He said [redacted] had been to his office on numerous occasions to use a mimeograph machine but that he, GRUBBS, had never written articles for [redacted] and had never endorsed any of [redacted] organizations. He continued by stating that the Louisville Courier-Journal, a newspaper of general circularization, is vitally opposed to GRUBBS and he feels that the Courier-Journal has been endeavoring to get him involved with [redacted] organizations.

When GRUBBS again presented the question of investigative jurisdiction he specifically mentioned the investigations concerning bombings, integration, and civil rights and then qualified his statement by saying that he knew the FBI had investigative jurisdiction in civil rights matters. He then added that he had before him all of the newly proposed legislation presently to be considered by Congress but that none of the legislation had been acted upon and therefore he could see no investigative jurisdiction having been delegated specifically to the FBI.

At this point GRUBBS was advised that he should correspond with the Attorney General's Office concerning any legal questions involved. He said he would do this immediately but again pointed out that he had no respect for the Department of Justice officials and had received his information concerning civil rights matters through correspondence with Mr. BATTLES, Chairman of the Civil Rights Commission.

After the above conversation GRUBBS again referred to [redacted]. He said [redacted] had telephonically contacted GRUBBS ~~today~~, February 12, 1959, asking GRUBB's assistance as legal counsel and when GRUBBS refused [redacted] said "They," meaning the FBI, "are bringing you into the investigation." GRUBBS said he asked what the FBI had said, to which [redacted] replied "Special Agent [redacted] told [redacted] that you were a dictator." GRUBBS said he immediately contacted [redacted], at which time [redacted] admitted he had been interviewed by Bureau Agents at which time there was no mention made of GRUBBS and that the inquiry of [redacted] was not directed towards GRUBBS or any of his organizations.

GRUBBS was told that no comment could be made by this office regarding any investigation which was being conducted or whether such investigation was being conducted and that he should not infer from this that such investigation was or was not being conducted.

[redacted] referred to above, appears to be identical with [redacted]
